LOVE FOR ALL HATRED FOR NONE

Should school days be longer?

Pupils in England should have longer school days and shorter holidays - says the government's top man in education.

Education Secretary Michael Gove has said in a speech that the current school term system is out of date.

He pointed to the high achievements of kids in East Asia, where "school days are longer, school holidays are shorter".

But the Association of School and College Leaders said quality of learning was more important than hours.

What do you think?

NEWSROUND: FRIDAY 19TH APRIL 2013

Hadhrat AmmaJaan^{RA}

AN INSPIRATION FOR US ALL

Hadhrat Sayyedah Nusrat Jahan Begum sahiba^{RA} (Hadhrat AmmaJaan^{RA}) was the wife of the promised Messiah Hadhrat Mirza Ghulam Ahmad^{AS}.

Also regarded as "Hadrat Ummul-Mo'minin" (the "Mother of the Faithful"), she was a spiritual and physical mother, a mentor, a carer of orphans and a guardian of the vulnerable and the sick. She was a personification of Islamic values, a pillar of support for the Promised Messiahas and faithful to the institution of Khilafat from its early start.

Her values and moral training influences the Jama'at even today, as she was the matriarch of a blessed progeny, that includes 4 of 5 of the khulafa of the Ahmadiyyah Muslim Community to date.
